TAX CONTROVERSY WORK

Advised corporate client in guiding multiple employees who were being separately audited by the Internal Revenue Service on the ground that the employees' charitable contributions of company stock constituted assignment of income.

Represented and defended individual taxpayers in significant audit related to tax consequences of sales of stock. After many years in which the Franchise Tax Board continued to assert an assignment of income argument, we succeeded in persuading the FTB that complete withdrawal of the issue was the correct result.

Represented and defended individual taxpayer in FTB audit regarding trader status and application of the Internal Revenue Code mark-to-market rules. After five years in which the taxpayer's previous representatives were unable to make progress on the audit, our work resulted in the FTB's decision to withdraw the issue.

Represented and defended individual taxpayers in FTB audit relating to residency and income sourcing issues. The audit was settled with a significantly reduced assessment.
